Blossoms and leaves in the most different forms and colours are given to us by the nature.

Designer, illustrator and passionate gardener Kathrin Bender rediscovered one of the oldest techniques: blossom pressing. She develops beautiful creations for your own home, as a gift for your friends or as attractive decorations for weddings and other celebrations, using blossoms and leaves in combination with other materials.

Kathrin Bender comes back with flowers from every walk into nature. After studying visual communication and spending many years in the art scene, she began to transform the picked plants into simple illustrations in pencil and ink. A small label for stamps and art prints became STUDIO KARAMELO, a design studio for botanical illustration and environmentally friendly stationery products.
