Coloured tissue paper can be used to create magical window stars, which are a shining decoration in every season. With easily understandable steps, Frédérique Guéret introduces the readers to a folding technique developed by herself and shows in detail how beautiful window stars can be made from coloured tissue paper. With this method, you are able to create stars and blossoms in an astonishing diversity of forms.

The models are divided into different level of difficulties so that beginners as well as advanced learners find appropriate suggestions.

Frédérique Guéret, born in Aix-les-Bains in 1949, worked in a Paris advertising agency until 1980. Today she lives in Stuttgart, where she completed a painting and drawing training. Out of her diverse interests, she developed her own, lively method in the art of folding with tissue paper.
