

Helmut Hinrichsen

The Creative Leather Factory

Die kreative Lederwerkstatt

Approx. 176 p., hardcover,
including photographs and drawings,
continuously coloured.

ISBN 987-3-7725-2755-5

All rights available

Working with leather - useful, beautiful and creative.

Manufacture your own special clothings and articles of daily use!

A comprehensive introduction for all those who like to work with leather or want to become familiar with this activity. Tools, working techniques, information and a wealth of creative design ideas: from spectacle cases to dog leashes, from mobile phone cases to leather sandals and bags. With precise text and photo instructions, you can make many beautiful everyday objects and unusual items from leather for yourself and your loved ones.

- Leather work in all levels of difficulty.
- With detailed text and photo instructions.

Helmut Hinrichsen was born in 1950, trained as an agriculturalist and then studied Waldorf Education in Witten/Annen. He taught handicrafts and biology at the Waldorf School in Kiel for many years and was also a counselling teacher for addiction and drug prevention. He is currently a lecturer at the Waldorf teacher training seminar in Kiel and at the Alanus-Hochschule Alfter.

