Paper is a fascinating material and the great passion of designer Christiane Hübner. From this wonderful material surrounding us everywhere – be it as a book or a magazine, as packing material or note –, new objects can be created from old ones or a three-dimensional object from a one-dimensional. All you need are a few specific folding, cutting and print techniques. Ranging from useful to decorative, aimed for the daily use or for specific occasions – in the book Creative with Paper you can find individual projects from beyond the ordinary.

- Beautiful things made of paper.
- Upcycling for book and paper lovers.
- Beautiful design meets one of the most beautiful materials: paper.

Christiane Hübner studied architecture and product design at the Bauhaus University Weimar and ran the joint design agency produktgruppe with her partner Matthias Becker for many years. In 2010, she founded the label renna deluxe, combining her passions for fabric and paper. By combining these materials with the typeface she creates purist stationery, lifestyle products and home accessories.
