Pan is calling! The buck-footed Greek god was able to beguile creatures by the tones of his flute.

In Christa Ludwig's enchanting story, it's the little shepherdess Phoebe who makes a foal dance with her flute.

And it is not just any foal: it belongs to Prince Alexander of Macedonia. But will Phoebe also be able to bewitch Alexander?

- A special story about Alexander the Great.
- Tender, poetic and thrilling at the same time.
- With a lot of Greek atmosphere and a fine feeling for horses.

Christa Ludwig, born in 1949 in Wolfhagen near Kassel, studied German and English language and literature. She has loved books at least since she was able to read, and she began writing herself at an early age. Since 1989 she has published books for children and young people.
